

ROWLAND HILL MEMORIAL FUND OF IRELAND

Rowland Hill, a great administrator and reformer of Post Office affairs, was born in 1792. He is best known as the initiator of the Penny Post. In tribute to his work, the Rowland Hill Memorial Fund of Ireland was established in Britain in 1882. An independent organisation was founded in Ireland in 1928 under a Deed of Trust approved by the High Court Justice.

Today the Rowland Hill Memorial Fund of Ireland provides assistance for serving or retired staff of An Post and eir, and their dependants. It also provides financial assistance for retired staff and their dependants of the former Department of Post & Telegraphs, Telecom Éireann, eircom, and eir. Assistance may be given to those who find themselves in need due to age, poverty or infirmity. The Rowland Hill Memorial Fund of Ireland is managed by a voluntary committee of Trustees.

The Fund is worthy of your support because:

1. It is administered by an independent and voluntary body of Trustees
2. Thousands of staff and their dependants have been helped over the years when they were in urgent need of help
3. Subscriptions may be deducted from your pay; a few cents deducted regularly will mean a lot to someone in need
4. The suggested subscription is only €0.65 cents per week
